THEATRE DEPARTMENT & STUDIO'62 PRESENT
OUTER SPACE, OUTER TIME
WORKS FROM THE 2019 SEASON OF STUDIO'62
62CENTER.WILLIAMS.EDU
Welcome to the final projects of STUDIO’62!

Comprised of a company of 10 Williams College undergraduates, STUDIO’62 is an intensive and collaborative experience in the processes and practices of theatre. Over the past summer, our company has embarked on a creative journey with the guidance of 16 visiting artists and mentors who have taught masterclasses, led students in devising collaborative work, and assisted in the development of the projects you’ll see tonight. Topics of study have included Meisner technique, Clown, Suzuki method, Fitzmaurice voice training, playwriting, and more — all of which have made a substantial impact on the company’s final work.

Tonight, we present OUTER SPACE, OUTER TIME, a collection of short plays and performance pieces that represent the work of this year’s STUDIO’62. True to the span of interests and talents in our group, we are proud to feature productions and readings of student-written work alongside presentations of pre-existing plays, devised movement pieces, and literary adaptations. Our company members have worn many hats this summer and their work as directors, writers, designers, and performers has brought this evening’s program to life.

We can’t wait to share this culmination of our summer’s theatrical work, and we thank you for your support of STUDIO’62! Whether this is your first time in CenterStage or your 50th, our artistic process is made possible by your attendance and enthusiasm. Enjoy the evening!

WHO’S WHO IN THE COMPANY

Tobias (Toby) Delgado (‘21) is a Theatre and English double major from Buenos Aires, Argentina. He has performed in the Theatre Department’s productions of Tartuffe, Springtime, and The Last Days of Judas Iscariot. He was also the Lighting Designer for Cap & Bells’ production of Mr. Burns.

Lily Goldberg (‘22) is a prospective Comparative Literature major from New York City. She has performed in Cap & Bells’ musical reading series, and is the Arts Editor of the Williams Record. Her interests include playwriting and dramatic criticism, and she will be dramaturg for Clare Barron’s Dance Nation with Cap & Bells this fall.
Olivia Graceffa (‘22) is a prospective Theatre and Chemistry double major from Arlington, Massachusetts. In her first year at Williams, she has performed with Cap & Bells in multiple readings and as Jenny in Mr. Burns. She is currently serving as Music Director for Cap & Bells.

Kara Hadden (‘22) is a prospective History and Theatre double major from Southborough, MA. At Williams, she acted in The Importance of Being Earnest (Cecily), directed several staged readings, and served as the Assistant Production Manager for Cap & Bells. This coming fall, she’ll be directing Clare Barron’s Dance Nation through Cap & Bells. She’d like to thank everyone for a wonderful summer!

Charlie Kerzner (‘22) might be a prospective Russian or Philosophy major from Sheffield, Massachusetts. He has performed in The Importance of Being Earnest and Mr. Burns with Cap & Bells. Thanks guys!

Peter Matsumoto (‘20.5) is a Theatre major from Los Angeles, CA. Acting credits with the Department include Jaime in Majesty in the Middle Realm (PVP 2018), Elliot in 90 Days (Microdramas), and Judas in The Last Days of Judas Iscariot. With Cap & Bells, he was Matt in Mr. Burns. Matsumoto was also the Scenic Designer for their productions of The Pillowman and Noises Off! He is now the Co-Artistic Director of Cap & Bells.

Abigail Murray-Stark (‘22) is a prospective English and Theatre double major. She was the Assistant Stage Manager for the Department’s production of The Last Days of Judas Iscariot.
Maye McPhail (‘22) is a prospective Theatre and something-else double major from Dallas, TX. Williams credits include The Last Days of Judas Iscariot (Saint Thomas), Noises Off (PSM, Cap & Bells), and Mr. Burns (PSM, Cap & Bells). She is the current Production Manager for Cap & Bells. Lots of love and thanks to the STUDIO’62 company!

Mira Sneirson (‘22) is a prospective Russian major from Savannah, Georgia. Past theatre credits include The Lesson (Pupil), Noises Off (Costume Designer), The Last Days of Judas Iscariot (Satan), and 24 Hour Play Festival (Johnny Cash).

Ben Weber (‘21) is a Math and Theatre double major from Great Neck, NY. Department credits include Bailiff (Act One) in Judas Iscariot and Mr. Atkins in Majesty in the Middle Realm (PVP 2018). On the Cap and Bells front, last spring he directed Mr. Burns and in the fall he will be General Manager.

ARTISTIC/PRODUCTION

Amanda Keating ’12 (Playwright, EVENT/HORIZON) is a playwright from Western Mass living in Brooklyn. Her plays include RETREAT (Ensemble Studio Theatre and Two Headed Rep), adaptations of TARTUFFE and MISS JULIE (Two Headed Rep), GO THAT WAY (Williams College Summer Theatre Lab), ROAST (The Plowmen), TEACH/TEACH, PAT, OF SOLITUDE, and The Cleanup Crew. She is a former member of EST/Youngblood, an EST/Sloan commission recipient, and a Playwrights Realm finalist. Her short plays have been produced by EST, Serials @The Flea, 7x7, and Tiny Rhino. Her play, this movie, was a winner in the 2017 Samuel French OOB Festival. She is the Literary Manager of Two Headed Rep.
Kevin O’Rourke ’78 (Artistic Director) is an actor/director based in Williamstown and New York. He has performed on Broadway in Cat on a Hot Tin Roof, Spoils of War, and Alone Together, as well as The City of Conversation at Lincoln Center, Outside Mullingar at The White Heron, The Night Alive at John Drew and six productions at Williamstown Theatre Festival. He also works frequently at Barrington Stage Company in Pittsfield, MA, has appeared in leading roles on numerous television series, and won a SAG Award for his role as Edward Bader on Boardwalk Empire. His film credits include The Irishman with Robert DiNiro and Al Pacino, as well as the features Vice Versa, The Aviator, Tattoo, Freeheld, and the upcoming Seth Rogen feature: An American Pickle. As a director, Kevin staged the NY premiere of Abi Morgan’s Tender off-off broadway, Jonathon Draxton’s Soldier at HERE Arts Center, and The Physicists at Williamstown Theatre Festival. In 2005 he founded the Williams College Summer Theatre Lab (the precursor to STUDIO’62) and for 10 years served as its Artistic Director.

Emily Rea (Production Manager) joined the Williams Theatre Department as Production Manager and Lecturer in 2016. Recent teaching and production work includes NYU Tisch, CUNY Brooklyn College, Michelle Ellsworth, Andrew Schneider, and The Wooster Group. She is a co-founder of The Institute for Psychogeographic Adventure.
